Q2

What did you especially like about the course?

I enjoyed interacting with others in a variety of leadership goals and grad programs. The different experiences and perspectives were valuable to my growth.

Q3

How do you feel this course could be improved?

The first half was very overwhelming with all new content to me. It was a lot of reading (up to around 95 pages in a week) from Bohlman and Deal, and then class focused on additional leadership theories which added to the confusion. It would have been helpful to have scenarios, examples, and time to further explore the B&D frame that we read about.

Throughout the course, a small number of students were frequently cold-called. There were many other students that were not called on at all. It would be great to include more voices in the discussions and sharing ideas.

Would you take another course from this instructor, based upon the instructor's abilities as an instructor? (Please ignore the fact you might be graduating or not need another course in the program.)

Yes, because,

Because: :

Dr. Baule is kind and passionate about his topic. He is very open to feedback and ideas that may be different from his own. He openly invites students to contact him about grades, course content, or other questions/concerns. He has a wealth of experiences and uses them to give examples tie to course content which is helpful to further understanding concepts.

There were many leadership theories presented during the semester, but I sometimes struggled to understand how to connect those theories to real-world examples. Yes, because,

Because: :

I liked the pace of this course and felt that Dr. Baule gave us ample time to complete our assignments. I also liked that there was at least one, many times more than one, class between assignments so that we had time to review the criteria and bring questions forward. Dr. Baule is always very responsive to questions sent outside of scheduled class time as well (i.e. email).
