Rhea, et al,

Here is a really rough first draft. I tried to include Jim Schul's comments on the research structure of the coursework. I didn't worry about pretty, I have a bunch of comments that need to be addressed. That I figure could come later. I tried to follow the basic construct of the existing handbook but tried not to take anything from it verbatim. I didn't include a section on doctoral student dispositions, but I know that has been a topic of some conversation as well. It would be easy to add.

Let me know what else you need from me.

Steve
